Therefore, in the contract to be concluded with the incubator, it will not be possible to refer to the documents above, since this will be the process that will lead to the granting of residence visa. Thus, since the contract cannot forgo with the identification of the parties, the current identification document of the entrepreneur should be mentioned, referring to the type (namely the passport), its number, place and date of issue.

Q.30. What is the average amount charged for the services provided by the incubators?
